

Sonja Mueller
Director

Sonja Mueller is a Berlin based international prize winning photographer who has excelled in the domains of advertising, portrait and sports. Sonja's recent transition into the realm of directing commercials has been met with immediate acclaim.

Her individual photorealistic style, laced with unique architectural compositions and compelling lived experienced storytelling, has caught the attention of both clients and advertising agencies alike.

Sonja was recently awarded the best ADC campaign of 2017 (German Award of Creativity). Both "fascination and passion" are equally displayed in her unique unconventional approach. And she is wonderful to work with.
