

August 30, 2018

Bel Canto, a hostage drama directed by Academy Award nominee Paul Weitz is released in cinemas across the US September 14.

Starring Julianne Moore, Ken Watanabe, Christopher Lambert, and Sebastian Koch, we are proud to announce that Tobias Datum worked as a cinematographer on this feature.

Based upon the novel Same Name by Ann Patchett, the film is about a famous soprano singer who travels to South America for a private concert and gets stuck in a hostage situation where she discovers a whole new world.

As for Tobias Datum and Paul Weitz this is not their first cooperation since they started working together on the TV series Mozart in the Jungle in 2014 already. We do hope this will not be their last.

