

Matthias Helldoppler

Matthias was born and raised in a small village in Tyrol. Already by the age of 14 years he discovered his passion for film and started doing short movies with friends in addition to school.

Shortly later Matthias started working as a first camera assistant on commercial sets. He has realized several commercials, music videos and short movies since then.

Besides he enrolled for some master classes for cinematography, for example at the American Society of Cinematographers in Los Angeles.

Matthias is especially interested in emotional concepts with strong storytelling. He is living and working in Vienna since 2014.
