

Philip Bruederle
Director

Philip Bruederle, born in 1981, grew up in the Westerwald, Germany. Philip is an autodidact.

Philip photographed advertising campaigns and editorials for national and international clients and magazines. These include Adidas, Hugo Boss, Highsnobiety, Karl Lagerfeld, Leica, Philips, Plaza Woman, Schwarzkopf, Sleek and Wella.

Visually expressive portraits of the following people distinguish Philip's work:
Hubertus von Thielmann, Devon Aoki and Katrin Thormann.

Since 2015 Philip is working as a director. Until mid 2016 Philip worked in collaboration with Pete Schilling. Philip is blessed with a passion for nature. Everything that fascinates and inspires him comes from that passion: nature's originality, her beauty, humans and their artifacts. In his work, Philip is able to depict all these attributes in an emotional and visually powerful manner.