Tim Bieker

„We see light in a very different way. Interesting reflections, shapes and directions of light can be seen everywhere. To understand and take this into creating unique images is probably one of the best things about being a cinematographer“

Driven by relatable, touching, and emotional ideas that go beyond the expected, Tim cherishes the creative process from start to finish and maintains a humble approach to filmmaking. His goal is always to capture authentic and beautiful imagery that supports strong storytelling or evokes a special feeling for the viewer. Tim has worked on projects recognized at various festivals and awards. He is always open to new opportunities in music videos, documentaries, fashion projects, and features.
