

Noah Böhm

One could say that Noah Böhm is a precise artist with a B.A. in VFX & Film Design in his pocket, who created his own worlds in digital space. At the same time he got inspired to record the world surrounding him with his camcorder, somewhere between fiction and skating. What really sets Noah apart is his observational skill and ability to translate real time into the inner flow of his images. He has an eye for the everyday, easily overlooked moments and captures them with sensitivity.
His images seem to glow from within, and you may see someone drinking their coffee as if it was for the first time. He creates a flow while filming, where time and space merge into a story that captures the viewer, caresses him and leaves him touched - if he wants to.
It should also be said that DoP Noah Böhm studied cinematography at the HFF Munich and shoots commercials, music videos and narrative formats as a freelance DoP.
Noah won the German Kamerapreis 2024 for the short film SENSIBELCHEN.
Noah lives in Munich.
